

Jackson Katz:

Be a Leader in Creating a Less Violent Future

Katz inspires men and women to confront the persistent problem of violence. He focuses on the lives and attitudes of boys and men while studying the media that saturates our lives. He has worked with the Marines and professional/college sports teams to develop leadership skills. According to Katz,
“Caring is not enough. We can do better.”

MARCH 12TH

12:30 PM

KENDALL
HALL

CO-SPONSORED BY:

Circle of Compassion, Office of Anti-Violence Initiatives, Office of Student Affairs, Office of Diversity, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, CAPS Peer Educators, School of Education, Graduate School of Counseling, Athletics Department, Fraternity and Sorority Life, The Episcopal Church at TCNJ, The Wellness League, PRISM, and the Student Anti-Violence Educators (SAVE)

This event is SAF Funded.

Watch Katz's TED Talk here!

<http://bit.ly/Xq6fzu>

Questions? Email circle@tcnj.edu

Office of Student Activities
Posting Expiration

Date: 3/13/15

Staff: TN _____