

Please join us for a practice-rooted conversation

TEACHING FOR FREEDOM SALON

Join Dr. Anne Peel and Dr. Alan Amtzis for an open forum on how K-12 educators can respond to the recent and on-going national legislative attempts to limit what teachers say, do, and teach.

Listen, share, and learn with fellow teacher educators, K-12 teachers, school and curriculum administrators, librarians, and literacy supervisors as we collaboratively discuss the following questions:

- What does it mean to teach for freedom?
- What teaching freedoms are most important to protect?
- What are some pedagogic practices and ideas that address these freedoms in our teaching?

4-4:45 pm | Tuesday, March 8

Room 208, School of Education (and Zoom)

Dr. Anne Peel

Dr. Alan Amtzis

RSVP to Dr. Amtzis at amtzis@tcnj.edu