

Emerging Leaders

Keren G.

How did you find out about this opportunity?

I saw a flyer for Emerging Leaders on the Office of Leadership's Instagram and immediately after looked it up on their website to obtain more information!

[Contact: Dr. Avani Rana, ranaa@tcnj.edu]

What should a student know about this opportunity?

It is an 8-week program where you meet once a week with other emerging leaders, peer mentors, and faculty leaders as well. It was a great opportunity to meet other people from all across campus and participate in interactive leadership workshops.

What has your experience been like?

I really enjoyed my time with the Emerging Leaders Institute and would recommend that regardless of your leadership experience you try it out

When did you join? When can a student join? Why did you join?

I did the program Spring of my Sophomore year and I joined with the hope of learning more about my leadership style, core values, and networking with peers and faculty! The program is for freshmen and sophomores, and juniors and seniors can get involved by applying to be mentors where they get a chance to work with a small group of underclassmen

Why should ROSCOE students be interested in this?

ROSCOE students in particular should seek this out to learn about soft skills and often unsaid practices in the leadership/professional world that sometimes we don't have access to

What faculty or staff do/did you work with?

Dr. Avani Rana, Office of Leadership Interns, and professionals across campus that come to present on various topics.
